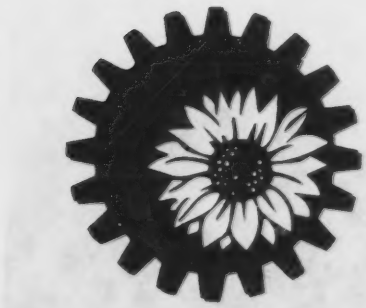
Special Crops Directory



Alberta
AGRICULTURE, FOOD AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Introduction

Many active participants in Alberta's special crops industry are identified in this edition of the Special Crops Directory 2002. This is the final publication of the Special Crops Directory by the Special Crops Product Team, which has been disbanded. The directory will be available from Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development's Information Packaging Centre, Publications Office, 7000-113 Street, Edmonton, Alberta, T6H 5T6, ph. 1-800-292-5697. The Special Crops Directory is also available on the Internet at: http://www.agric.gov.ab.ca/crops/special/directory/index.html

Every effort has been made to present this publication free from errors and/or omissions. No legal liability will be assumed by Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development (AAFRD) or any of its employees for the accurateness, completeness or usefulness of the information in this directory. Note: Inclusion in this directory is not an endorsement by Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development

The Special Crops Directory 2002 has been funded by the Farm Business Management Program and the Special Crops Product Team.

How to use the Special Crops Directory

Step 1: Locate the special crop on The Alphabetic List of Special Crops (see Other category for unspecified crops)

Alphabetic List of Special Crops i

Step 2: Using the page number found on the Alphabetic List of Special Crops, go to that page number in the Special Crops and Related Functions List which includes the industry participants' names

Special Crops and Related Functions List 1

Step 3: On the Special Crops and Related Functions list, select the industry participant of interest and to obtain contact information refer to the the Alphabetic List of Industry Participants

Alphabetic List of Industry Participants 40

Notes:

1. AAFRD staff working with special crops may not appear on the Special Crops and Related Functions List, however they are listed on the Alphabetic List of Industry Participants. 42
2. Information regarding government office locations and special crops contacts can be obtained by calling the Ag-Info Centre at 1-866-882-7677.
3. A form to update information on the AAFRD website can be found on page 55.
